The European Forum at the Hebrew University in Jerusalem and the Institute for Human Sciences (Institut für die Wissenschaften vom Menschen, www.iwm.at) jointly award one six-month Junior Visiting Fellowship to the Institute in Vienna for Ph.D. candidates.

Conditions

The Junior Visiting Fellow will be invited to spend a six-month term between October 2017 and June 2018 at the IWM in Vienna to pursue a research project while working in residence at the Institute as a member of its international, multidisciplinary scholarly community. The fellow will receive a stipend of € 11,000 to cover accommodation, living expenses, travel, health insurance and incidentals during the stay at the Institute. Furthermore, the IWM will provide an office, access to the Internet, in-house research facilities and other relevant research resources in Vienna. In addition, the IWM will offer lunch five days a week.

Eligibility

Candidates for the fellowships

- must currently pursue a doctoral degree in the humanities or social sciences at the Hebrew University,
- their research topic must be broadly related to one of the IWM's main research foci (see www.iwm.at/research),
- must not be older than 35 years.

Application

The application should be submitted electronically and in 5 hard copies and should contain the following documents:

1. the application form
2. a concise research proposal in English (max. 4 pages, double spaced, A4)
3. a curriculum vitae
4. two references (scholars familiar with the applicant's academic work)

Deadline for application is April 27, 2017.
